Notice.

The public are hereby informed that a Company has been formed under the title of THE QUANTICO WAREHOUSE COMPANY, who have erected, one mile below the town of Dumfries, a large and convenient Warehouse on Quantico creek, for the storage of flour, grain, etc. which warehouse will be ready for the reception of produce on Monday the third of Feb. next The trustees of said Company have appointed Zebulon Kaskey their Agent, to attend the said Warehouse, to receive produce on storage and grant receipts for the same. And for the prompt delivery of all articles received in the said warehouse by their agent, (fire alone excepted) the Company hold themselves bound. All persons depositing flour, grain, etc. must pay, before taken away, the following storage, viz. For each barrel of flour 6 cents; if it remains in said warehouse one month 8 cents; and in the same proportion for the time it may remain. For each bushel of wheat or other grain two cents; if it remains over one month three cents; and in the same proportion for the time it may remain. And for all articles of merchandise a reasonable storage only will be demanded. Persons storing flour may have it inspected, or not, at their option. If not inspected, the agent's receipt will specify the brand and the state of the barrels The weight of one bushel wheat, running measure of each load or parcel of wheat. All articles stored, the same to be returned to the owner when called for, be it flour, wheat, other grain, etc. Customary allowances for wastage, etc. excepted.

Quantico Warehouse is situated on Quantico Creek, only two miles from its junction with the Potomac river, at all times navigable for lighters. There are belonging to this creek a sufficient number of lighters to ensure a brisk transportation down the creek of all articles stored. Vessels may be got to take produce to the district of Columbia, Baltimore, Norfolk, or elsewhere. The present freights are—To the district twelve and half cents per barrel of flour, and to Baltimore and Norfolk 25 cents from the mouth of Quantico. The proximity of this warehouse to a large extent of country, added to the goodness of roads leading to it from the westward being little inferior to paved ones. It being found by actual survey little more than 25 miles from Hay Market to Dumfries, will, it is confidently believed by the trustees, by this route greatly lessen the expense of transportation of produce even to the district of Columbia, and they pledge themselves to the public to use every means within their power to give satisfaction.

Two Runaway Boys

Ran away, on the 8th December 1816, from the Clifton Factory, in St. Mary's county, Maryland, two apprentice boys, named each about 17 or 18 years old. Allen has a round face, small hands and feet, stoops forward when walking, speaks slow, and is small for his age—he has a mother living in Alexandria by the name of Downs, whose husband, Bernard Downs, is a waterman. Hilton, also speaks slow and smiling, lifts his feet high and stoops when walking, has large feet and remarkable long great toes: he has a grandmother living near Chaptico, St. Mary's County, Maryland, who is the only relative he has living. Their clothing is country made, unless changed for deception.

James Allen & Wm. Hilton.

All masters of vessels and other persons are hereby warned not to harbor or employ said apprentises at their peril.

Hilton has always had a desire to follow the water, therefore will probably be idling about the docks of the town.

They have gone off without the least provocation or offence either on their part or on the part of the Company to whom they are bound to learn the manufacturing business.

Ten Dollars for each, or either, will be paid by us, to any person who will take up and secure these boys so that we get them again, and if brought home all reasonable charges paid by Virginia Legislature.

Yesterday, in the house of delegates, Mr. Lewis, of Cambell, offered a resolution that the house should close its session on Saturday the 8th February, which on the suggestion of Mr. Harrison, he changed to Monday the 10th. After some discussion, in the course of which some of the members expressed doubt whether they could close their business by that time, and in that case the resolution would not be considered as imperative, the resolution was adopted.

Mr. Chamberlayne moved to add "wind and weather permitting"—Mr. Harrison of Prince George, said this language looked like the sporting of children and begged the mover to withdraw his motion—which he did, saying it was a sea-phrase, which he thought applicable; as the house could not know positively when they could adjourn, such a phrase was therefore suitable to a matter utterly indefinite. The amendment was withdrawn

Mr. Hay said, that after the last resolution was adopted, he was very unwilling to bring any new business before the house, but an incident had recently occurred which compelled him to ask the attention of the house: he asked leave to bring in a bill to amend an act concerning the clerk of the general court and for other purposes. He stated that the clerks of the Richmond Chancery Court, and of the Court of Appeals, were by this law to give bond and security, by November last, for the faithful discharge of their duty, they had refused to do so, within a few days past the Court of Appeals had decided that their clerk should comply with the law within a certain time, or stand upon his responsibility, that responsibility was in fact nothing. He said, that this was a bold and audacious attempt on the part of these clerks to set the courts and the legislature at defiance He therefore asked leave to bring in a bill to cure the defect.

Mr. Chamberlaine seconded the motion; he asked who were the clerks of the court of appeals and of the chancery? He asserted, they were both insolvent.

Leave was granted, and a committee accordingly appointed.

The new bank bill was received from the senate with a variety of amendments. They were referred to a select committee and ordered to be printed. They contemplate only two principal banks, one at Winchester, and the other at Wheeling, with a power of establishing three branches each, on a capital of not less than $400,000, nor more than 600,000.

The militia law was passed, abolishing all company musters but one. In towns having one or more battalions, this company muster is to be converted into a battallion muster.

Extract from a respectable house to a merchant in Baltimore, dated,

NEW-ORLEANS, Dec. 26.

"It is with pleasure I announce to you the news received by the Calypso, Capt. Boyle, from Galvestown, General Vittoria de Gaudaloupe, with about 2000 men under his command and within six leagues of Boquilla de Piedras, between Halappa and Point el Rey, has gained a victory over the Royalists, and taken, it is said, a million of dollars from them."

[Enclosed in the above.]

N. ORLEANS, Dec. 26.

An intelligent gentleman, who arrived here yesterday from Galvestown, gives us the following intelligence.

"A privateer commanded by Captain Lee Maison had arrived from Boquilla de Piedras at Galvastown; she carried the news that the royalists having made a landing at some little distance from Boquilla, the patriot general Vittoria Gaudalospe, warned of their designs, placed on their route, several ambuscades hat in a measure annihilated them. The loss of the royalists was estimated at 300 killed or wounded, and 150 prisoners.

General Vitoria has taken, besides, a convoy of two millions of dollars, dispatched under a strong escort from Mexico to Vera Cruz.

The brig that was taken by the Venezulian privateer Jupiter, and sent to Galvestown, is expected here every moment. The court of admiralty having ascertained that she was taken in the waters of the United States, determined to send her to New-Orleans, and restore her to the proper owner.

Three vessels belonging to the squadron of General Mina, have been spoken off Boquilla de Piedras by a Mexican cruizer, bound to Galvestown. They were equipped and worked in the complete man of war style."

By its commerce principally has the British nation been enabled to furnish its government with means apparently inexhaustible, to command the strength of four fifths of Europe, and to wield it for the accomplishment of its schemes of ambition or revenge. Its importance in all its bearings and tendencies, to the interest and prosperity of the country is most obvious, and the policy of a wise and provident government should be, by every means in its power, to cherish and foster it, to protect it with equal tenacity, from foreign spoliation, from the depredations of homebred pirates on the high seas, from regulations and restrictions, the inevitable tendency of which is to produce decline if not death, from the avowed enmity of the friends of the "terrapin system," and from the political quackeries of "backwoods" politicians: freed from these impediments, when the operation of political causes divert it from its accustomed channels, it will seek new ones in which to flow; it will prosper, and the nation with it,—but unfortunately for our commerce, whenever events occur, however natural or unavoidable, in themselves, producing effects equally natural in their operation, cause it to languish; the whole host of political empirics mistaking the nature of the disease, vociferously cry out for the universal specific, restriction! restriction! restriction! and would strangle the patient lest he die of a consumption.

FOR THE ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE.

That commerce is of vital importance to the prosperity and greatness of a nation, is a truth which has received the sanction of every sound practical statesman; and it will be seen, that the increase or declension of the wealth, power, and political consequence of the modern states of Europe, has been strongly marked by the state of their external commerce; the destruction of the latter has been invariably followed by the decline and in some cases, the annihilation of the former. By its commerce principally has the British nation been enabled to furnish its government with means apparently inexhaustible, to command the strength of four fifths of Europe, and to wield it for the accomplishment of its schemes of ambition or revenge. Its importance in all its bearings and tendencies, to the interest and prosperity of the country is most obvious, and the policy of a wise and provident government should be, by every means in its power, to cherish and foster it, to protect it with equal tenacity, from foreign spoliation, from the depredations of homebred pirates on the high seas, from regulations and restrictions, the inevitable tendency of which is to produce decline if not death, from the avowed enmity of the friends of the "terrapin system," and from the political quackeries of "backwoods" politicians: freed from these impediments, when the operation of political causes divert it from its accustomed channels, it will seek new ones in which to flow; it will prosper, and the nation with it,—but unfortunately for our commerce, whenever events occur, however natural or unavoidable, in themselves, producing effects equally natural in their operation, cause it to languish; the whole host of political empirics mistaking the nature of the disease, vociferously cry out for the universal specific, restriction! restriction! restriction! and would strangle the patient lest he die of a consumption.

The neglect and subsequent destruction of the French commerce during and after the revolution, the loss of their colonies by conquest & external commotion, and the dominion exercised by that government over Spain & Holland and the capture of the Dutch settlements in the East & West Indies, threw into the hands of the English the greater part of the trade of the world; the balance was enjoyed by us and produced a state of prosperous activity and of geo ing wealth & consequence, scarcely paralleled; our tonnage increased with the exigences of the times. Our rapid and successful march, was checked and impeded by the system of "commercial restriction" adopted and persevered in by our government, and finally arrested by the war with Great Britain.

The return of peace, and the destruction of the continental system, with its author, the restoration of their colonies to the several European nations, and the participation of those nations in the commerce and carrying trade of the world, which had been divided between us and Great Britain, the ill-timed and overstrained speculations of our merchants, and the confusion ever incident to a change from war to peace, have produced effects so deplorable, on the commercial interest of the country generally, and those of ship owners in particular, that all feel, but few properly account for them; much of this distress, and far too much, has been attributed to want of sagacity in the commissioners who signed the convention at London; how far the reciprocity of privileges granted that nation in its direct trade with this country, may be beneficial in its tendency, I shall not stop to enquire, but certain it is that the persons who represented this government would better have served the interests of the country, by insisting on some stipulations in regard to its trade with the British colonies in our neighborhood. While negociating for reciprocal immunities they had something to offer in the shape of "quid pro quo," at the conclusion of a war which they had felt our power, in the prospect of a peace in which they calculated largely on the benefits of intercourse with us, was the time to secure the privileges desired. Another opportunity (less auspicious to be sure) will again (and not then) occur, I mean the time when the Convention must necessarily be renewed; until that time occurs, a wise policy would dictate a vigilent adherence to the provisions of the convention, and to counteract the effects of British regulation in regard to her colonies solely by the present, or if necessary, an increased impost and tonnage. To adopt the course contemplated by the bill now before Congress will be in my humble apprehension, to rob the government of a highly valuable revenue, to embarrass and shackle all foreign trade to this country, and fail of the object, both as it regards the coercion of Great-Britain and the benefit of our own trade—for even admit the fact which a sagacious editor of Georgetown has stated, that this bill "will remove the evil," by which I understand to be meant that it will procure us admission in the ports of the British West Indies, (which I think will be found difficult to substantiate by arguments drawn from the general conduct of that government on subjects connected with their trade, or from any other source,) I say even admit the fact, that it will have this tendency, and that the passage of the Bill should be followed by even an immediate admission of our vessels into those ports, it is extremely problematical whether it would have a materially beneficial effect on the general trade of this country, altho' it might operate favorably on the lumber, fish, and horse trade of New England; the Southern and middle states, I believe have invariably suffered from a free intercourse with the British W. Indies, more than any other, from glutted markets and other causes, and the present is perhaps the only footing on which that intercourse can be put to save them from a sacrifice of their valuable products, and no produce is now sold, but at prices entirely satisfactory.

A great portion of the carrying from the United States to the British West Indies, is in vessels arriving direct from England, and exempt by the Convention from the payment of tonnage, &c. and it is scarcely possible that G. Britain will submit to the manifest encroachment we shall make on the privileges guaranteed by the Convention, when we require of the master, owner, or consignee of the vessel so arriving from England, and clearing with a cargo (of flour, for instance) "to give bond in double the amount of vessel and cargo," that he will proceed to no port except one that we shall designate. Can we interfere with the vessel of any nation entering our ports and clearing, after having complied with the settled laws of the land while in such port, after she has left our jurisdiction? As well might the British government pass an order in council requiring bonds from every American vessel sailing from the ports of London or Liverpool, that they would proceed to no other ports in the United States than Portland or New-Orleans. If by the first section of the bill, "no vessel belonging to or coming from any port or place where the vessels of the U. S. are not permitted to enter and trade" shall be permitted to enter our ports, in what situation would a vessel be placed belonging to Jamaica, and coming from Liverpool; would she not incur the penalties of the act for belonging to Jamaica, while by the Convention of London she as an English vessel coming from Great-Britain, is not only permitted to enter, but to enter upon terms equally favorable with a ship of the United States: and even should these words of the bill be retained we should soon see all the vessels of the British West-Indies registered at Bermuda, and touching and re-touching there in their voyages to this country, while the pittance of the carrying trade which we should enjoy to that island, would not employ twenty vessels of 100 tons each.

That the small participation we should have in the carrying trade to those islands, would in any event be of the importance which some pretend, I cannot conceive; but if we do labor under disabilities or inconveniences of that kind, they are solely attributable to the neglect of proper stipulations on the subject, at the time of framing the existing convention; the renewal of that convention, or the substitution of another, which is not far distant, will be the time to apply the remedy; meanwhile the only relief that will reach the case is the imposition, if necessary, of additional duties on articles imported and tonnage which will yield a valuable revenue to the government, and be as likely to have weight with the other party as the measure proposed, and will prevent what some so much desire, but what all who rightly understand the interests of the country, dread, as the greatest curse that can befall our trade, "a war of commercial regulation."

From Washington

"January 18th Several motions have been made on the subject of the reduction of the Army. It appears by documents on our table, that the war department the last year (a year of peace) cost the country nearly fifteen millions of dollars? All nations are reducing their army establishments to the lowest possible point. Wars they know never come instantaneously—that there always is time between the first breeze and the storm to make preparations; and that in every country the standing army is the levethan which swallows up the revenue of a country."

The following baragraph is copied from an essay in the "Intelligencer on the Post Office establishment, and will shew the wonderful facility of travelling in this young and enterprising country.

From Portland in Maine, to Natchitoches in Louisiana, a distance of 2318 miles, the mail travels in thirty two days passing for a very considerable distance through an unsettled wilderness, over roads almost impassible, and at the average rate of more than 70 miles a day.—From Washington City to Lexington in Kentucky, a distance of 695 miles the mails travels in six days and twelve hours, over rough roads and lofty mountains, at the rate of eighty six miles per day.—from Boston to Savannah, a distance of 1191 miles, the mail travels in ten days and eighteen hours, making upwards of a hundred miles per day for the whole of the distance. Europeans of the first intelligence assure us, that these movements considerably exceed the rapidity with which the mails travel either in England or France.

Pennsylvania Banks.—It appears by a document, published in the Philadelphia papers, that there are, in the state of Pennsylvania, forty eight incorporated, and twenty two unincorporated Banks—making no less than seventy two Banks now in operation in that State!

Extract of a letter from one of the owners of the British schooner Belvidere, to a gentleman in New York, dated Wilmington, NC, January 18.

"I have to inform you, that, on the 5th instant, I experienced a dreadful gale, which threw the schooner on her beam ends. Being unable to wear round we cut away the main mast, rigging, sails and yards, before she righted. Her hull was also so much injured as to cause her to leak very badly, especially on bearing up to the wind. We did not reach our port until yesterday. I immediately entered the vessel, and called a survey. The surveyors ordered her to be hove out: and they believe the repairs can be completed in about 8 days, when she will be ready to receive her cargo."

A poor officer reduced, met, in the Jardin des Plantes, one of his comrades as miserable as himself:—"What do you do here?" I am on a course of botany, to teach me how to vegetate."

Land for Sale

A tract or parcel of Land, containing between two and three hundred acres, on the north side of Occoquan, in Fairfax county, about 5 miles west of Occoquan mills. It is well watered with never failing springs, it is also well timbered, and the great quantity of fur timber on it renders it the more valuable to any person in the coopering line. This land is of the middle soil, and produces corn, wheat or any other grain tolerable well—there is about 100 acres cleared and under good fence. The improvements are a log dwelling house & other out houses, and a good apple orchard of about sixty trees.

ALSO,

One other tract in the same county, within three miles of Occoquan, lying on Sandy Run, containing 47 acres—one half in cultivation and under good fence, the remainder heavily timbered. There are on the premises an old framed dwelling house and out houses and an apple orchard of eighty bearing trees.

Any person inclining to purchase can view the premises and know the terms by applying to the subscriber who lives near them.

Public Sale

THE subscriber wishes to sell a Farm in the county of Prince William, adjoining the lands of Mr. Edmund Brooke, and Mr. R. B Alexander, containing by a late survey two hundred and forty eight acres, which will be sold at Public Auction, to the highest bidder, on Monday the 3d day of February, on the following terms, viz. One fourth in hand, and the balance at equal instalments of one and two years without interest, if punctuality is observed in the payment, otherwise interest will be required from the date of the purchase, and a deed of trust on the land to secure the payment which may be made in paper of any of the chartered banks of Virginia, or the District of Columbia.

On this land are many desirable improvements, such as a comfortable dwelling house and other Buildings, an orchard of well selectek apples and, never failing springs of excellent water. No land can be better situated than this tract for the successful operations of agriculture; nor any more susceptible of speedy renovation by clover and plaster, the effects of which are satisfactorily exemplified on the adjoining land. One of the fields is laid down to wheat, which the purchaser will be expected to pay for at a reasonable price for the seed and cultivation. Any person desirous of purchasing will be shewn the land before the day of sale on application to Mr. Alexander.

At the same time will be sold on the premises,

All the stock of cattle, hogs and sheep, of the subscriber, with many articles of household and kitchen furniture, on a credit of nine months for all sums over ten dollars; for which bond with approved security will be required, carrying interest from the date if not punctually paid.

JAMES KENNEDY & SON,

BOOKSELLERS, KING STREET,

Have just received from LEE'S PATENT MEDICINE Store, No. 46 Maiden Lane, N. York,

A FRESH SUPPLY

Of the following genuine Medicines.

For the prevention and cure of Bilious and Malignant Fevers, is recommended

Hahn's Anti-Bilious Pills.

THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings, in several parts of the West Indies, and the Southern & Middle States, particularly in N. York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Petersburg, Richmond, Norfolk, Edenton, Wilmington, Charleston, and Savannah. The testimony of a number of persons at each of the above places can be adduced, who have reason to believe, that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives, when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy, founded on mere assertion.

It is not, indeed, presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience, for believing that a dose of these Pills, taken once in every two weeks, during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventative; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases, their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate, and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation, and of every age.

They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile & prevent its morbid secretions—to restore & amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which is so often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance—they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

HAMILTON'S WORM DESTROYING LOZENGES.

Which have cured an immense number of persons of both sexes, of every age and in every situation, of various dangerous complaints arising from worms, and from obstructions or foulness in their stomach and bowels.

This medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of similar titles so commonly complained of, as operating with violence; on the contrary, a particular excellence of this remedy is its being suited to every age and perfectly so, it contains nothing but what is constitution innocent, and is also mild in its operation. cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady or the tenderest infant of a week old, should no worms exist in the body; but will, without pain or griping, cleanse the stomach and bowels, of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms, and many fatal disorders. The lozenges are particularly efficacious in carrying off all gross humours and eruptions, feverish and bilious complaints, and are the safest and mildest purgative that can be used on any occasion.

DESCRIPTION OF WORMS.

And the symptoms by which they are known:

Worms which infest the human body, are chiefly of four kinds, viz.—The Teres, or large round worm; the Ascarides, or small maw-worm; the Cucurbitina, or short, flat, white worm; and lastly, the Tænia, or tape-worm, so called from its resemblance to tape. This is often many yards long, and is full of joints. It is most hurtful and most difficult to remove.

Among the symptoms attending worms are—disagreeable breath, especially in the morning; bad and corrupted gums; itching in the nose, and about the seat; convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometimes privation of speech; starting and grinding of the teeth in sleep; irregular appetite, sometimes loathing food, and sometimes voracious; purging, with slimy & fœtid stools; vomiting; large and hard belly; pains and sickness at the stomach; slow fever, with small and irregular pulse; a dry cough; excessive thirst; sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance, and sometimes the face bloated and flushed.

Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms, should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges, which have been constantly attended with success, in all complaints similar to those above described.

A dose of this medicine given occasionally during the warm season, will effectually prevent "the vomiting and purging of chint"—a dreadful disorder, which annually destroys the hands of the infant part of our citizens it likewise the mildest and most their remedy known and now restored to health and strength a great number, when in an advanced stage of this fatal complaint. Particular and plain instructions are given for every part of the necessary treatment in such cases.

Children generally take this medicine with eagerness; having a pleasing appearance, and an agreeable taste.

Hamilton's Essence and Extract of Mustard.

A safe and effectual remedy for acute and chronic rheumatism, gout asthmatic gout, palsy, lumbagoo, numbness, white swellings, chilblains, sprains, bruises, pain in the face and neck, etc.

The Genuine Persian Lotion.

So celebrated among the fashionable throughout Europe, is an invaluable cosmetic, perfectly innocent and safe, free from corrosive and repellent minerals, the basis of other lotions) and of unparralled efficacy in removing blemishes of the face and skin, freckles, pimples, inflamatory redness, scurfs, tetters, ringworms, sunburns, prickly heat, &c. The Persian Lotion operates mildly, without impeding the natural insensible perspiration, which is essential to health, yet its effects are speedy and permanent, rendering the skin delicately soft and smooth and improving the complexion.

The Restorative Powder for the teeth and Gums.

This excellent preparation comforts and strengthens the gums, preserves the enamel from decay, and cleanses and whitens the teeth, by absorbing all the acrimonious slime and foulness, which suffered to accumulate, never fails to injure and finally ruin them.

Hamilton's Grand Restorative,

Is recommended as an invaluable medicine for the speedy relief and permanent cure of the various complaints resulting from dissipated pleasures, juvenile indiscretions, residence in climates unfavourable to the constitution, the immoderate use of tea, frequent inoxication or any other destructive intemperance the unskilful or excessive use of mercury, the diseases peculiar to females at a certain period of life, bad lyings in, &c

ROBBERY.

On the night of the 6th of December 1816, the Exchange Office of the subscriber, Bridge street, Georgetown, from appearances by a false key, was robbed of the following property, in Specie, consisting of dollars, change, American and English gold, about 200 dollars; bank notes, mostly three dollar notes of the bank of Washington, and some small tickets, together about 30 dollars, a one pound note of the bank of England, and one hundred and sixty four lottery tickets as per numbers below. The lottery tickets can be of no use to the person taking them, and an attempt to pass them would only lead to a detection, it is therefore hoped that the person or persons who took them, will return them to the subscriber through the Post Office at Georgetown. A liberal Reward will be paid by the subscriber for any information that may lead to the discovery of the persons or a recovery of the property. All keepers of lottery offices in the United States will please to keep a list of the numbers of the following tickets, as it may lead to a discovery of the theft.
